MISSIONS TEAM MEETING

TUESDAY, MARCH 5,
AT 2:00PM IN THE PARLOR

Whether you expressed an interest in the Missions Team or not, everyone is welcome to attend this meeting. It's time we get to work on Mission efforts. Come be a part of the team!

“A Few Thoughts on Approaches to Our Faith— and the Scriptures”

Rev. Ron Hayes

Ugh, it's tax time. As part of preparing for taxes each year, it is suggested we do a thorough review of our overall financial health as well. I have been skimming a few articles along the 'investment' subject line and rereading the guidance provided by one of the best, the Oracle of Omaha, Warren Buffet. I see some interesting threads to compare our approaches to faith.

Buffet's track record of a calm and steady review of the marketplace and how to better understand, adjust, and invest across the markets to improve his holdings each year is wildly successful. When questioned on some of the common 'mistakes,' he shrugs his shoulders and simply says, "most investors are trying hard and are smart people but often have minor misunderstandings on why their strategies don't work out as well." He cautions that we need to be aware of biases. Over the years, psychologists have identified a number of cognitive biases that impact investors. Anchoring bias, for instance, makes it easy to misjudge the true value of an asset simply because you're fixated on past performance. Confirmation bias occurs when you seek out information but focus on that which cements what you already believe. Activity bias makes you feel unproductive when you're not trading frequently. And finally, Risk aversion is probably one of the most powerful biases investors deal with. The fear of losing money can outweigh the pleasure of gaining it, so decisions are rooted in fear.

If you want a deeper discussion on each of these four financial biases, stop by my office or invite me out for a cup of coffee and we can spend an inordinate amount of time on the financial implications for each one. Oh, the joy! But for the purposes of this newsletter article, we are moving to the possible faith applications of each or at least I'm going to give it a whirl.

Anchoring bias brings us to our faith as we are often taught in our early years, or as absorbed through culture such as in story books or in movies based on the Bible. Most pastors and Sunday School teachers worked hard, had great hearts and intent, but very few were Bible Scholars fluent in Greek and Hebrew. They also probably weren't armed with the latest discoveries (e.g. the Dead Sea Scrolls were found between 1946 and 1956 at the Qumran Caves—considered very recent in terms of Biblical history). We all agree you can't get our faith facts from the movies or Facebook or TikTok.

Confirmation bias occurs when you seek out information but focus on that which cements what you already believe. Yes, that's an exact quote from the financial part of the article, but it applies to our faith too. If we only read, listen, and study those we agree with, our faith is not stretched and strengthened. Reading and hearing different points of view is not necessarily meant to change us but to challenge us to better understand what and why we believe as we do. There is much to learn. And we just might change—see Risk aversion below.

Activity bias takes a different turn as it may be seen when someone changes too quickly to the latest "cultural" belief system. Have we thoroughly and completely studied various aspects of both sides and then decided or easily jumped in with the 'leading edge' group? I think it is best to also follow Outler's Wesleyan Quadrilateral: Scripture, Tradition, Reason, and Experience (see my July 2023 article).

Risk aversion is in play too. What is the balance of trusting God versus trusting one's own skills and reason? This is a really, really, hard one. If you need an example, try answering a call to share the Message one Sunday or to lead a Bible Study. Suddenly the description, strong faith, goes out the window. But a strong faith doesn't mean saying yes to every opportunity either. As Buffet puts it, awareness of your Risk aversion is the key in trying to find the balance. Remember that it is not good works that bring about blessings. God gives us grace and we are changed and want to do good works.

The last day of March will be Easter Sunday. Hallelujah! May we seek to better understand ourselves to also strengthen and empower our faith to share the Gospel. The world needs you and me and the faith we share—the love of Jesus.

Peace and blessings,

What's the (Hi)Story?

Jill Hale, FUMC Historian

The year is 2000. Remember all of that concern over Y2K? We do seem to worry about things sometimes, don't we? At least I do. I need to remember that the Lord is in charge and trust Him, but I digress. Back to church history.

First, here are some tidbits regarding the church building: (1) The Board of Trustees determined that the Becker Hall deck would need to be repaired or restructured, so use of the deck was restricted until that could be accomplished. (2) The Board also approved that the carpet in the Chancel would be removed and replaced with tile when the Sanctuary was renovated. Rev. Mel Ireland advised that this would improve the acoustics for musical programs. The Board went to work seeking funding for the needed Sanctuary improvements, such as pews, choir chairs, carpeting, and painting. It was decided that the new Sanctuary carpet would be green because it would be complementary with all Holy season colors. (3) Dr. Larry Zehring requested that blinds be installed on the Becker Hall windows so that the room could be darkened to show movies.

The Pastor-Parish Relations Committee was charged with determining what additional staff could be hired to cover responsibilities like keeping Endowment records, Thursday Night Alive reservations, coordinating meetings, and answering the phone. It was decided that a part-time assistant secretary would be hired to work up to 30 hours a week, that an additional telephone would be purchased, and that office space would be provided for this person. Kandi Mount was moved into the inner office next to Rev. Williams' office. The newly-hired Ann Cass, assistant secretary, could then work in the outer office three days a week.

After a lot of discussion and a number of meetings, including a church conference chaired by Rev. Max Whitfield and the District Superintendent, it was decided that the parsonage would be sold and that the senior pastor would be provided with a housing allowance in its place.

There were some pastoral events in 2000. Sadly, on January 4, Rev. Paul Johnson passed away. He had served the church since 1994 and had been a strong supporter of every activity. In March, it was announced that Dr. Larry Dodgen would be the new minister to replace Rev. Wendell Dorman upon his retirement. Sunday, May 21, was designated "Wendell Dorman Day." Shortly thereafter, Rev. Dodgen petitioned the Conference Cabinet to accept his own retirement. Because of this, Rev. Larry R. Williams from the FUMC in Crossett in the Little Rock Conference was immediately announced as the pastor to succeed Rev. Dorman. In June, Rev. Dorman retired, and a welcoming reception was held between services on June 18 for Pastor Larry Williams and his wife, Marilyn. Associate Pastor, Rev. Thomas Stone, retired in September. Rev. Wayne Bartruff replaced Rev. Stone in November. Are you confused yet with all of those many changes in one year?

Back in those days, we had something called the "Dessert Theater." The theme in 2000 was "From Blues to Jazz," which showcased music from ragtime to swing. It ran for five consecutive performances, Monday through Friday. The stages were built by church members and other volunteers, and the desserts were prepared by Chef Bruce Main. Sounds deliciously fun!

Missions work was strong and included the Shoebox Ministry, Pak-a-Sak, and the sponsoring of Habitat Houses in Africa and India. A Volunteers in Mission Team traveled to Cabadbaran, Agusan del Norte, in the Philippines for two weeks to help paint an almost-finished high school building and do other light construction jobs. You can see that ongoing mission work has been deeply embedded in our congregation for a long time.

Next month, we will take a look at 2001. Until then, please do remember that we would welcome your church stories. Just let me know by phone at 479-344-6074 or 928-710-3612 or by email to rjhale68@cox.net.

MEET OUR NEW MEMBERS

STEVE & AMY TERRY:

Steve and Amy Terry joined the FUMCBV family on Sunday, January 28. They began visiting our church because of friends that were attending here. Steve and Amy are Bella Vista residents and are both retired. They have 3 children and 12 grandchildren. Steve has an interest in missions and is already involved in the United Methodist Men here. Amy enjoys cooking and hiking. They list their interests as golf, fishing, working out, growing plants, Jeep-ing in the Ozarks, and classic trucks. Steve and Amy keep busy with family, friends, church, and fun. You can usually find them in the Casual Service. We are excited they've chosen to call FUMCBV home and to get to know them better! If you haven't welcomed them already, what are you waiting for? :)

IN GRATITUDE

Thank you!

Thanks to Pastor Ron for all the visits to Suzanne and myself in the hospital, at Circle of Life, and at our home. Also, thanks for the beautiful eulogy at my wife's Celebration of Life service.

Thanks to the Naomi Circle for putting together great food at the reception following the service.

Thanks to all the staff members for helping with the service. God bless each one of you.

~ Verle Shoemaker

Thank You

THANK YOU FOR ALL OF THE CARDS AND HAPPY BIRTHDAY WISHES AT MY PARTY. IT WAS SUCH A SURPRISE FOR ME! MY DAUGHTERS WERE IMPRESSED BY ALL THE LOVE AND SUPPORT IN OUR CHURCH.

United Women in Faith

GREETINGS FROM UNITED WOMEN OF FAITH!

The women of UWF are all looking forward to spring and the Celebration of Easter this month. We will also be having our first Unit Luncheon of 2024 on March 27th in Becker Hall at 11:30am.

Beginning March 7th, our weekly Bazaar Workshops will be held every Thursday from 9:00am--2:00pm in the Quilt room downstairs. Everyone is welcome and there are jobs for everyone, from pressing material, cutting out items, stuffing pillows and other items, sewing items from pot holders, aprons, to placemats. It is a GREAT way to visit and have MANY laughs while making items for our Bazaar that benefits the Women, Children, and Youth in Benton County. Come when you can, stay as long as you wish, bring a sandwich and have lunch with the group.

ITEMS NEEDED FOR WORKSHOP:

Large-mouth Pint and Quart jars

The UWF continue to collect Best Choice Bar Codes (like the one at right). We receive $60 for every 1000 codes we collect. Just drop your bar codes in the box in the Library.

DATES TO REMEMBER:

March 6th Executive Board Meeting 9:30am in the Parlor

March 7th Bazaar Workshop from 9:00am-2:00pm every Thursday in the Quilt Room starting today

March 27th UWF Unit Meeting & Quarterly Luncheon 11:30am Becker Hall

Call President, Barbara Brooks at 876-5353 for questions or comments. You, too, can become a member and make a difference someone's life.

YOU CAN BECOME A MEMBER & MAKE A DIFFERENCE IN MANY LIVES! ALL ARE WELCOME!

UWF UNIT MEETING & QUARTERLY LUNCHEON

The UWF Unit Meeting & Quarterly Luncheon will be Wednesday, March 27, at 11:30 am in Becker Hall. LaDonna Humphrey, Executive Director of Oasis NWA, will be here to share about the Share the Love program. Lunch is ham, party potatoes, roll, and lemon cake for $7.50. Please RSVP by Sunday, Mar. 24th, in your Circle or the Church Office.
